Peggy Ayers King 1942 - 1992

Peggy King served as Legislative Research Commission Librarian from 1976 to 1992. She was an exceptional person, whose intelligence, kindness, shyness, and laughter drew people to her. She encouraged and inspired colleagues, legislators, and friends alike.

Peggy deeply loved Nature and Nature's God and was a vital member of her community. Of Peggy's many gifts, perhaps her greatest was to value all who came within her ken.

*Ancient religion and modern science agree:
we are here to give praise.* -JOHN UPDIKE

KRS 7.100(1) requires the Legislative Research Commission to maintain a legislative reference room and working library for the use and information of the General Assembly.

The Legislative Research Commission (LRC) provides reference materials and services to support the agency’s research activities. The Peggy King Legislative Reference Library has holdings consisting of approximately 4,000 volumes, 300 periodicals, and video and audio collections. The library also has access to archived historical materials.

The library’s collection includes general reference books; General Assembly and legislative committee actions; and public affairs publications on local, state, and federal governmental topics. Many of its holdings and services are available for legislative research by the legal community and the general public.

The library’s collection provides the most current materials and as many historical records as space allows. Older materials may be housed at the Department for Libraries and Archives. LRC library staff can access older materials for patrons when needed.

The Peggy King Legislative Reference Library is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. When the General Assembly is in session, the library is open until 30 minutes following adjournment of both chambers.
